Methodists Are Making Changes.

Methodists of the United States are sending $200,000 a year to Europe to do missionary work there in the Methodist name. Of this sum $140,000 a year is going into Sweden and Norway, into Denmark and northern Germany, countries long counted Christian, and themselves doing missionary work elsewhere. About 75,000 Methodists are now in these countries, the outgrowth of American enterprise and zeal. Property worth more than $1,000,000 has been accumulated, in part of course, through local contributions. For years amounts given by America to these European Christians for advance work has slowly increased, it having been only $125,000 ten years ago.

Now a new plan is to be adopted. Indeed, it is in part entered upon already. It grows out of new conditions in southern Europe and in Syria and the Holy Land. The Italy work, taking $55,000 a year and having 5,000 members, is to be strengthened but another advance is to be made in Bulgaria, Macedonia, Albania, Asia Minor, Turkey and Palestine. Methodists feel that here are far more needy fields than exist in northern Europe, and now that the outcome of the war with Turkey has opened the way they are quick to take up new plans and make the change. Workers will be transferred as fast as possible. Methodists have work in Bulgaria and Jerusalem. A study of countries captured from the Turk is to be made at once. Education, as well as planting new churches, will be entered on, and as much effort given to sanitation and health as possible.

NORMAL NOTES.

Floyd, the Magician, who is to give the next entertainment in the Normal lecture course, is without doubt the most skillful exponent of pure sleight-of-hand that has ever appeared upon the Lyceum platform. He has followed this line of work for over 20 years. He was the pioneer and still maintains the lead. He has invented, designed and presented more brilliant magical experiments than any magician now living. He is constantly at work upon some new and wonderful mystery, and so startling are some of the effects and so nearly perfect his art, that he has but to command the most unlearned of things to happen and they transpire. He will be ably assisted by Mohala, the mind-reader, and a really talented musician.

"Magic that is Magic" is what the Floydists use, as the next attraction at the Normal lecture course. Every feature on their program is thick and broad and long with entertainment; the kind that is utterly devoid of the conventional and unique. Their 20 years of experience has placed them in the front ranks of America's greatest artists. They are entertainers of the very highest class. All of their wonderful experiments in modern magic, mind-reading and illusions are strictly original. An evening of startling surprises, refined mirth and pleasing music is assured all who attend this unique performance.

The Floydists, magicians, who are to be the next entertainers in the Normal lecture course, have arranged a program for this season, consisting of tricks and illusions that surpass anything heretofore achieved in the field of modern magic. The mind-reading, or second sight act by Mohala, is a unique feature, being unlike anything of its class, an exhibition which not only affords amusement, but at which scientific minds marvel. It is a gift, and successful imitation of her work is impossible.

The only supreme novelty upon the Lyceum platform this season is the Floydists, magicians, illusionists and entertainers, who are to appear at the next number of the Normal lecture course. They present a program filled with new and startling features, pleasing music, marvelous mind-reading and prestidigitations. The Floydists offer an entertainment that is well worth the price of a ticket to the entire course.

Kills a Fox Worth $1,000.

Jack Embo, an employe of a saw-mill near Silver Lake, California, was greatly disturbed and angered by the howling of the coyotes and the barking of dogs one night last week, and took a shot at them through the window. The next morning he thanked his lucky star when he found the chance shot at the disturbers of his peace had killed a silver grey fox, the pelt of which is estimated to be worth $1,000. Since Embo made his fortunate shot there is a great deal of shooting noticeable in that neighborhood at night, and it is evident some of the other citizens are trying to emulate his example.

State University News.

(By G. C. Wilson.)

In a triangular debating league, composed of State University Law School, Cincinnati Law School and Indianapolis Law School, State won the debate at Indianapolis Thursday night and tied with the Cincinnati Law School here. The tie was due to one judge being absent, the vote standing one for State, the other for Cincinnati. It was declared a draw. The question debated was, "Resolved that there should be municipal control of public utilities."

The team that went to Indianapolis had the negative side of the question. This team was composed of Stonewall Jackson, Harry B. Miller and Mr. Morrison. The team that went against Cincinnati at home had the affirmative. This team was composed of Messrs. Jett, Berkshire and Higdon. This is the first time that State University has competed with schools outside of the State, but she made an excellent showing and has received a challenge for a debate with Vanderbilt.

In a series of declamatory contests held in behalf of the W. G. T. U., Miss Ina Darnall, of Louisville, won the first contest, which was held at the Lexington Opera House Saturday night. The eight contestants from State University are: Misses Lois Bartlett, Ina Darnall, Arena London and Lel Roberts, Messrs. G. R. Smith, H. D. Graham, Paul Harris and G. C. Wilson. These eight speakers are soon to appear at Georgetown and Paris and two more medals will be awarded.

Prof. J. T. C. Noe has been in Philadelphia for the past week attending an educational meeting. Prof. Noe is the head of the Educational Department here.

State closed the basketball season on Saturday night in a double header game. The girls defeated the team from Louisville, thus giving them the championship of Kentucky. The "Wild Cats" lost to the Christ Church team of Cincinnati by a score of 20 to 19.

Four handsome medals were awarded to the championship wrestlers in the four different weights last Wednesday night. This was the best amateur wrestling ever seen here. J. E. C. Johnson won the heavy weight, S. A. Blanchette, the middle weight, O. M. Edwards, the welter weight, and C. E. Barber, the light weight.

Hats Off!

Hats off to William Howard Taft! The President who goes out today did surely find Jordan a hard road to travel! He that journeyed from Jerusalem to Jericho found not a harder—

"Injuns on the upper way,
And death upon the lower,"

every mile beset with peril; the Tariff sick holes; the Ballinger morass; the Pochot ambulance, though of pop-guns, exasperating if not murderous; the yawning chasms and impassable gulfs of progressivism, as still surviving, he came down the home stretch, the Jersey steple-chaser forging ahead and finding a bridge over the bodies of the slain piled up in the ditch which Roosevelt made.

Hats off to William Howard Taft. He was called to answer many sins not his own. There is something worse in this wicked old world than defeat; dishonor. All the Teddy's on top of air cannot lay that cross of humiliation upon the back, nor press that cross of shame upon the brow of William Howard Taft. Hell is full of desecrated friendships; broken pledges; unexplained sins and unescapable mistakes; but heaven has still one halo left for him. "He Done His Duty as He Seen It," writ all over in letters of living light.

Hats off to William Howard Taft! Long may he live to show what an ex-President ought to be! Nature herself may stand uncovered and exclaim, "Hold a Man!"—Courier-Journal.

Home Sweet Home.

I've bought goods at Glasgow, Belfast and Cork, and Liverpool, and then in New York. I've purchased in Paris, yes, been in Rome, But I say to you truly, there's no place like home.

Have sent to Chicago: I am sorry to say, I got what I ordered, but first had to pay. When the boxes were opened I stood there alone, And said to myself goods are better at home.

The stove that I sent for had only three legs, What's the use of a stove if it hasn't its legs? When I looked in the oven it was cracked in the dome, Then I wished to old Mike I had bought it at home.

I'm now all filled up with this buying away, I'll buy where I sell my good butter and hay, If the Lord will forgive me, no more will I roam, Hereafter I'll spend all my dollars at home.

For Sale or Rent.

I will sell or rent my residence "West-over Terrace" on West Main street, Richmond. Possession given at once. For terms, apply to Thos. J. Smith, Frankfort, Ky. 21tf
